EuroFM Winter School 2016
February 15th - 19th

„Space Sharing“
AGENDA

- Information about the DHBW Stuttgart as a host University and the idea of the Winter School 2016
- EuroFM Winter School Programme - „Space Sharing“
- How to apply
- Accommodation
- What to do in Stuttgart
- Contact
Duale Hochschule Baden-Wuerttemberg (DHBW)

- The DHBW Stuttgart is one of the largest universities in Stuttgart
- Currently 8,800 Students enrolled
- Cooperation with approx. 2500 companies and social institutions
- Integration of theory and practical experience
- Postgraduate Masters with on-the-job-training
Growing urban regions show increases in usable space and built volume. At the same time the intensity of use declines – in contradiction to goals in sustainability and resource efficiency.

The topic of the EuroFM Winter School 2016 will deal with the aspects of planning, programming and operating shared space in order to improve space efficiency by

• intensifying space use e.g. through multiple use
• Dynamic programming
• Developing specialised shared services for heterogenous users
Winter School 2016 - Spacesharing

Reallabor Spacesharing is a three year joint research project of

- ABK - Staatliche Akademie der bildenden Künste (Academy of Fine Arts)
- DHBW – Duale Hochschule Baden-Württemberg
Students will work in groups in following FM-related research areas of „Spacesharing“ (Facilitating Spacesharing):

- Spacesharing – technical/structural & service pre-requisitions for Spacesharing (24/7 use-combinations)
- Spacesharing – forecast and projections of use concepts for the local pilot (24/7 use-combinations)
- Spacesharing – System requirements
- Other/further areas possible....
Welcome to the Spacesharing Laboratory – right in the heart of Stuttgart!
